G.E.T Promotes Responsible Travel Policy in Southeast Asia

G.E.T works closely with our ground partner in Southeast Asia to ensure that all our tours operate within a responsible travel policy.

We strive to give schools a clear and realistic understanding of other cultures through complete cultural immersion, rather than just seeing it from the window of a coach. We will not arrange visits to orphanages, schools or children centres in line with our responsible travel policy as we believe it is harmful to a child's development and emotional balance.

G.E.T is pleased to offer and recommend a range of projects across Southeast Asia that contribute to the improvement of livelihoods and conservation of biodiversity and cultural heritage. We would love to discuss these options with you as you plan your student travel program to Southeast Asia.

We create programs with these objectives:

- Challenging stereotyped views of developing countries
- Countering ignorance and intolerance
- Our responsibilities towards each other
- Understanding that each student has the power to change, and collaboration is powerful

As part of the travel experience to Southeast Asia, students will learn that the world is unfair and unequal, but that there are initiatives happening to challenge and change the status quo.

Cambodia - Human Rights & Social Justice

Angkor Wat temple

With strong curriculum links, this program provides a balance of potentially confronting experiences and robust discussions, complimented by providing time for reflection by students on the misinformation and stereotyped views of developing countries. Passport & Visa Requirements

Your passport and visas are not our responsibility and we are not liable for any loss or expenses caused by your failure to comply with these requirements. Flight reservations cannot be made without passenger names. You must, at the time of booking, advise the correct names of all passengers including students and escorts. It is vital that these conform exactly to the name in each passenger's passport. Name changes after tickets have been issued will result in the issue of new tickets and vouchers and incur amendment charges and may require a higher airfare to be paid. G.E.T Educational Tours can accept no responsibility for any additional charges, or inability to travel as a result of incorrect notification of passenger names. It is the responsibility of the traveller to ensure that their passport and visa validity is in line with the requirements of the country or countries they are travelling to.

Deposits & Payments

A non-refundable deposit of $400 per passenger for tours to Asia and New Caledonia, and $1,000 per passenger for tours to Europe and the Americas is payable to confirm your reservation. Should any of our suppliers require additional deposit payments, then we will advise this in our deposit letter. Full payment is required a minimum 65 days prior to departure. Airfare only bookings require a non-refundable deposit of $250 per passenger to Asia and New Caledonia and $500 to Europe and the Americas. Bookings may be automatically cancelled if payment is not received.

Changes & Amendments

If you change your booking inside 120 days prior to departure date, we will charge a $150 amendment fee for each change plus any additional pre-payable taxes, levies or charges. Requests for an individual to travel outside the groups designated dates is subject to availability and will incur an additional charge of $150 per person, plus any charges that our suppliers may pass on to G.E.T Educational Tours.

Travel Insurance

It is a condition of travelling on our international tours that our passengers are fully covered by comprehensive travel insurance. This should be valid for the full duration of your itinerary. G.E.T Educational Tours offers suitable travel insurance for this tour.

Luggage

Free luggage allowances will be strictly enforced with excess baggage carried by airlines at their discretion and at passengers own expense. Note most full service airlines offer a 20kg free baggage allowance. Some low cost airlines may offer a lower allowance or levy an additional charge for baggage. Please note: in the USA, luggage fees may require payment at check-in.

Cancellations & Refunds

A cancellation fee equal to the deposit and any airfares paid will apply until final payment due date. Bookings cancelled inside this final payment due date will be charged a fee equal to 100% of the land content price and all airline cancellation fees.

Please note: Airlines, ground handling companies, hotels, hostels, homestay accommodation operators, restaurants and tour operators may impose additional cancellation fees inside full payment due date.

We will not refund any unused part of your itinerary including accommodation, transfers, tours and airfares. Airline refunds following cancellations will be made when the airline completes the refund transaction (this may be in excess of 60 days). The price of your tour is not guaranteed until full payment is received.
